Hi, my name is Andrea, I only had the pleasure of meeting Robbie a few times. We met at Janices, when my kids were taking riding lessons. He was out in the yard working hard, pulling some ferns. I remember how sweet he was and what a great personality he had. Another time, his Mustang had broken down, but that didnt keep him from having a smile on. You could tell that he really enjoyed life and kids! Since he was making my kids crack up! They enjoyed him as well. Our Prayers are with you The Cunninghams

We are fortunate in life to build and hold close our families , but the friends we choose along life's path are what make this earthly life our garden. I am so sorry that Robbie's battle with cancer ended before he could fight back. I am praying for your families comfort over the physical pain & loss of your grandson, Andrea' babyboy and Janice's God son. May your walk thru these darker days be brightened by memories of his love of family, friends & fun. I am so very sorry for your loss. Wishing you comfort and peace always. John & Dee Dee Farrar

I miss Robbie terribly and know I always will! He may be gone from this earth but will live in my heart forever! We loved all our grandchildren very much but I think we were closer to Robbie than any of the others. Maybe it was because we saw him more often or maybe just because we felt sorry for him because his father was never around. Tony was a 'father figure' to him. Rob wasn't perfect, but then none of us are. He loved to argue and was very stubborn but was also very sweet. I can't tell you how many times he told me he loved me. He also loved his grandfather very much. He told me he wanted to take pinochle cards with him so they could play together. I made sure he had them. I dreamed the other night that Tony asked him what he was doing there and Rob just smiled and said 'let's play cards, Grandpa'. I'm sure they are together now and Tony will take care of him. Until we can be together again, Robbie, I'll love you and miss you, always. Grandma

I remember a Thanksgiving dinner the family shared and I decided to sit at the kids table. Rob was about 6 or 7 and was kind of picking at his vegetables with a look on his face that said "I don't want to eat this."
We talked about it and I encouraged him to at least try it before he decided he didn't like it. Then I was distracted by something and when I looked back at my plate my portion of vegetables had grown. I looked at Robbie and he looked up at me with an impish smile that melted my heart. I told him ok, just this once. As Robbie matured he wanted to be called Rob. But he will always be Robbie to me. He has a special place in my heart where he will stay until we meet again.

Robbie, you will be missed. Your heart is something I will never forget. The funniest story I can think of at this time is at Rick's and my wedding: We were all sitting and visiting in my parents family room you were going to everyone asking "where is my mommy". Not sure why, but you were having a great time and boy was Christopher laughing along with all of us. Robbie, you have always been my other son and that will never change. I know God has big plans for you. I will hold dear to me when I was talking to Bob and he held the phone for you so I could tell you how much I Love You and you said "Me to". Thank you for being you and having the biggest heart. Also, my mom said that she will never forget the last time you saw her and when you all were leaving you said "Bye Grandma". That made her feel so good that you still felt that way. You have always been a grandson of hers. Andrea and Bob: Rick and I love you very much.

I wanted to share this poem with you and let you know you will never be forgotten! I hope you like it. In Our Hearts We thought of you with love today, But that is nothing new. We thought about you yesterday. And days before that too. We think of you in silence. We often speak your name. Now all we have is memories. And your picture in a frame. Your memory is our keepsake. With which we'll never part. God has you in his keeping. We have you in our heart.

I didn't know Rob very well, I got the chance to meet him over Easter.. I brought my two kids with me and the affection and attention he gave to them was so amazing, he treated them as though they had always been apart of his family! That meant a lot to me and my son was so upset when he heard of him passing away! he still has the starbursts he snuck behind my back and gave to him. Rob even though I didn't get a chance to really get to know you, you have touched my heart and I will remember you always! From all the stories I have heard from your family and friends you seemed to have been such an amazing person and I am so glad I got the chance to meet you.. and I promise I will look after Kyle for you as you asked me too... I know you are in a better place now and looking down on all of us! You will be truly missed!!

Robbie was the sweetest kindest soul, as a child and a young man. His smile and humor will be missed. The greatest gift he gave was always himself. The greatest gift he gave his Mom and Bob at the end was to spend his last remaining time with them. That speaks volumes about how much he loved them. I'm glad they all got that time together even though it was probably difficult and trying. My prayers and love go out to Andrea and Bob and all the family and friends who miss him. He is in your heart and never far away! You'll be missed Robbie!

I met Robbie back in 1999 when I moved back for San Jose. He & Louie were living together on Saybrook here in Citrus Heights. When Rob found out that I was fighting for custody of Stephanie (his now niece) He offered to help in any way possible. The relationship I personally had with Rob grew from there. Sure we had our ups and downs, because we were like brother & sister. When I was pregnant with his nephew we got much closer. He was there for Louie & I when Bryce was born. He was the best man at our wedding.....There are way too many memories to share it would take me forever to write them all down. He will be missed by all I am sure. But I know that his is now the guardian angel looking over us. The hug he gave me the night before he left to go live down south I will never forget. The heart felt thank you that he said... That voice will play over & over in my head everyday...
Love, Kelly

Our Moms have been friends since I was 9 (I believe), which would have made him 5. He is my brother and always will be. I got to see him in April in Sac before he moved to his Mom's and we had a GREAT time! He got up enough energy to go to Thunder Valley with us (my birthday treat to him), have lunch and then gamble some. He was happy & smiling. I will forever remember him saying "I love you sis". It will be something I can never forget. I think of him everyday!!! I love him!!

Very nice! May 15th-While cutting the grass last evening, my mind was reflecting on the events of the last several months, weeks and of course specificaly of Rob's service. And with a smile, I couldn't help to reflect on Kyle's story and the same time remember several similar stories that Rob was also part of that also brought me a smile. In the near future and as I have more time, I'll provide the "rest of the story" to Kyle's story, "a mooning" event, and probably the best, "the loser drops their shorts!" Each one will be special especially the last, because as we learned from the service, Rob didn't like to finish second...

Rob I will miss you forever cuz. You and I were like brothers growing up. I will miss those days of playing tackle football in the park. Or that time when you threw that dart at me and it stuck in my chest. Or that time we stole some cigarettes from 7 eleven and tried smoking for the first time. Remember how I long I was puking after? Haha that was ridiculous. Anyway bud, I hope you like this little site I set up for you. The rest of the family and friends will be here soon too, to say hello and put some thoughts in. I hope your in a better place and I know I will see you again someday. -You cousin, Kyle
